

Project P.R.E. M.E.D. is sponsored by the Marshall University Joan C. Edwards School of Medicine Office of Diversity and Marshall University Office of Multicultural Affairs

Marshall University Joan C. Edwards School of Medicine 1600 Medical Center Drive Huntington, West Virginia 25701 (304) 691-1607 musom.marshall.edu/diversity

Providing Real World Experiences for future

Marshall Educated Doctors

MISSION

PROJECT P.R.E. M.E.D. provides early exposure for undergraduate ethnic minority students to the processes and preparation required for applying to and attending medical school.

Project P.R.E. M.E.D. seeks to improve the visibility and accessibility of the Marshall University
Joan C. Edwards School of Medicine for ethnic minority students attending institutions

For additional information or to apply contact:

of higher education.

Dr. Shelvy L. Campbell (304) 691-1607 campbels@marshall.edu

What is Project P.R.E. M.E.D.?

Project P.R.E. M.E.D. is a medical school information and exploration program designed for college students of color. Selected students will participate in an immersion program that exposes them to life as a medical student and life in medical school.

Selection Criteria

- A minimum grade point average of 3.0
- Students must be a college sophomore, junior or senior
- A letter of recommendation from a faculty member or university administrator
- · A resume and personal statement
- Official Transcript
- · US Citizenship or Permanent Residency required

Project P.R.E. M.E.D. students will:

- Participate in a three day visit on the Marshall University Joan C. Edwards School of Medicine campus
- Tour the Joan C. Edwards School of Medicine
- Attend medical school classes
- Meet faculty participating in medical research; participate in hands-on activities with physicians
- Receive a medical student mentor who will serve as a personal guide during the participants undergraduate experience and medical school processes
- Meet medical school faculty, university administrators and community leaders

Lodging and meals are provided. Assistance with transportation may be available.

