

Standardized Patients Wanted!!

Joan C. Edwards School of Medicine at Marshall University is actively recruiting participants for its Standardized Patient Program. A “Standardized Patient is an “Actor” who simulates a “real” Patient in a mock doctor’s office setting to assist in the teaching and examination of first and second year medical students. This includes regular routine examinations and special “case” scenarios, such as chest pain, headache, etc.

Employer: Marshall University School of Medicine
Division: Clinical Skills Center
Location: 1249 15th Street, Suite 1037 Huntington, WV

Qualifications: Must have flexible work hours. Some training sessions required for specific cases. To be considered for employment, applicants must be interviewed.

Authorization: U.S. Citizen or Permanent Resident status

Approximate Time Commitment: 0-10 hours per week

Compensation: $12.50 per hour

Desired start: Immediately after interview process

To be considered, please contact Kelly Webster-Fuller at 304-691-1743 or via email at boyd@marshall.edu to hear additional details and set up an interview.

